GIRL AVIATOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN CANTON FIGHT

Official's Daughter Flees Down Rope Ladder As Troops Come

HOME IS LOOTED

Miss Muphia Jue Proves Value Of Flight Training

BY EDNA LEE BOOKER
(Staff Correspondent)

Canton, June 22.—Miss Muphia Jue, the attractive daughter of Mr. Jue Kyih-man, director of aviation and of the Canton arsenal, who is a daring aviatrix, had a remarkable escape from Canton at the time of the capture of the city by General Chen Chiung-ming's forces.

Mr. Jue, who has been a loyal Sun Yat-sen man for many years, having been with Dr. Sun while he was abroad, put up a stiff fight against the soldiers who attacked the arsenal but was finally forced to flee.

Declaring vengeance upon Mr. Jue, the soldiers are reported to have looted the Jue home and grave fears were entertained by the foreign community and many of the Chinese as to the safety of Miss Jue.

A rescue party, headed by Mr. Alfred J. Croft, instructor of aviation in Canton from California, waited until night when there was a lull in the firing and then entered the inner city.

Hurrying through the narrow streets deserted except for the soldiers on guard, they finally reached the Jue home.

ESCAPES DOWN ROPE

The soldiers had been there, but no member of the family could be found. From neighbors and servants however Mr. Croft learned that while the soldiers battered down the front door and looted the first floor of the home, Miss Jue, who is afraid of nothing from looping the loop to doing tail spins, escaped from an upper story of the house by climbing down a rope.

She landed in a courtyard in the rear of the house and managed to escape to the home of friends. She took the first boat for Hongkong and is now in that city.

Miss Jue is a very remarkable young woman, according to Mr. Croft. She took to flying the way a duck takes to water and learned to fly in less than a month. She had only ten hours' instruction last November, but mastered many difficult "stunts."

She loops the loop, does the difficult Immelmans, the falling leaf and tail spins with the same ease and pleasure that a Shanghai girl fox-trots.

Every day for several months Miss Jue has been out to the Canton aviation grounds. She takes keen delight in flying and is more steady and reliable than many of the young officers who are flying.

FATHER U. S. CITIZEN

While Miss Jue has never been to America, having been educated at a girls school in Shanghai, her father is a United States citizen.

She is twenty-three years of age, an unusually attractive girl and a believer in the advancement of the Chinese woman.

Mr. Croft, her instructor, began flying in 1914 in San Diego. Later he flew at many of the Atlantic Coast fields and during the war was instructor at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas. Following the war he came out to the Philippines with the Curtis Aviation Company, later becoming instructor for the Philippine Government.

Last year he came to Canton as instructor for the Southern Government and has been training a large number of officers. According to Mr. Croft these "boys" can fly and, regardless of the side on which they are fighting, can do effective work.

Mr. Croft also had a narrow escape the day Chen Chiung-ming captured Canton. The military coup d'etat was accomplished so quickly and was such a surprise that Mr. Croft didn't know anything about it. He had an early breakfast and left Shameen Island, where the foreign community lives and which was not disturbed during the night, and arrived at the aviation plant as usual.

He noticed an unusual number of soldiers in the streets but didn't worry as soldiers in this part of China are as plentiful as real-estate offices in Southern California and in time become a part of the scenery.

Arriving at his office he found everything in disorder. Further investigation showed that the planes were damaged, the gasoline gone,

FOREIGNERS IN KIANGSI SAFE, SAYS BULLARD

Yangtsze Patrol Commander Gives Report Of Recent Mutiny

Rear Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, Commanding the Yangtsze Patrol, who arrived on the Patrol Flagship Isabel yesterday from Kiukiang in an interview last night confirmed the general reports of the recent uprising of mutinous troops in Kiangsi province. He said that before the Isabel sailed for Shanghai it had been established that no foreign lives had been lost in the uprising in which several important cities in Kiangsi had been razed and their inhabitants either slaughtered or put to flight.

Admiral Bullard gave no estimate of the loss of life or the extent of damage done by the unrestrained soldiery and said that while the disturbances may not yet be wholly quelled in the territory south of Nanchang, in which communications have been more or less broken, the menace to foreigners has been removed and no further destruction of foreign property is imminent. He said that the Chinese commanders are bringing the rebellious troops under control.

The American Gunboat Monocacy which has remained in Kiangsi waters has reported that Nanchang is quiet and no further fears that the uprising will extend to that point are held.

Admiral Bullard's arrival gives Shanghai two American Admirals for the first time in a long time as Admiral Joseph Strauss, commander-in-chief of the American Asiatic fleet, is also in port on his flagship, the Huron.

It is not known yet whether Admiral Bullard will remain in Shanghai until the arrival of his sucessor, Admiral W. W. Phelps. Admiral Phelps is due to arrive in Shanghai on July 26 to assume command of the Yangtsze patrol.

The U. S. S. General Alava also arrived in Shanghai Sunday Evening and is berthed at the French naval buoy, off the French Bund. The arrival of the Isabel and the General Alava makes twenty American naval ships now in port here, the largest demonstration of American naval strength seen in Far Eastern waters in many years.

General Lu Yung-hsiang Tells Of Rehabilitation Program For Chekiang

Progressive Military Leader At Hangchow Expects Completion Of Readjustment In Six Months When Province Will Have Self-Government

BY JABIN HSU
Staff Correspondent the China Press

Hangchow, June 24.—For the first time since the abolition of the tuchunate in Chekiang, General Lu Yung-hsiang, former tuchun and now popularly elected Rehabilitation Director, received a number of Shanghai journalists this evening in his yamen.

The room occupies the right half of a modest looking brick and wooden building set well back from the broad and well-treed drive known as Hsin Wu Road and connected to it by a stone path. A room of simple beauty, its plain white panelled walls are interrupted only by the single decoration of an embroidered image of the celebrated monk, Tsi Tien.

Precisely half a minute after the hurried journalists had stepped into the room, the orderlies announced the arrival of the "Tupan." In came the general with a broad smile, radiating wholesale optimism about his work and friendliness towards his visitors. Well-groomed and in unimpeaceable civilian clothes, he has indeed dropped the rigidity and self-consciousness which his personality appeared when I saw him in Shanghai three years ago. With almost self-effacing modesty, he greeted each and every one of his guests as the latter grouped around him.

In the conversation that followed, reunification of the nation was foremost in the thought of the director, scoring unmercifully the curse of party politics and tunchunate in China, while the necessity of rehabilitation in all provinces was convincingly pointed out by the man who has made a keen study of the situation for the last two years. He said:

"My first circular telegram has been regarded by a large section of the press as an expression against the resumption of presidential duties by General Li Yuan-hung. Really it was not its purpose to convey that impression. I believe that General Li is an excellent executive, a man well-qualified for the Presidential chair. Personally I admire him very much.

LEGALITY ANOTHER THING

"But the question of politics and legality should be regarded separately. While General Li is a de facto president, he is not a de juro president. It would have been much better, perhaps, after the withdrawal of Mr. Hsu Shih-chang, that an administrative council be created to function as the highest executive body until Parliament enacts the constitution and elects a president in strict accordance with law.

"As the matter stands today, the existence of so-called party politics is ruining our aspirations for reunification. In Western countries a political party exists on account of the principles it stands for. It has its platform. It fights for some doctrine, from which the nation derives certain benefits. But in China, parties and factions exist for selfish reasons, for animosity against other cliques and for self-aggrandisement."

General Lu here insinuated that the Peking administration at present is being fast placed in the grip of these politicians, who are making the solemn oaths of General Li Yuan-hung in regard to disarmament and financial reconstruction mere empty words.

Coming to the old Parliament, General Lu expressed doubt as to the possibility of securing a four-fifths majority quorum for the enactment of a national constitution. While firmly believing that a National Constitution should be enacted before the promulgation of provincial constitution, General Lu stated that he has included the enactment of a constitution for Chekiang in his program of rehabilitation. The Provincial Assembly will proceed at once to undertake this important work, which is expected to pass its third reading by the end of six months, the time set by General Lu to complete his rehabilitation work.

HE LOOSENS UP

Keen on all international and constitutional subjects, General Lu argued freely with the correspondents. In the discussions, General Lu's voice was strong and full throated. It has a reasuring quality. It inspired confidence.

Realising the delicacy of questions concerning the director's own position, none of the correspondents ventured to set forth any direct interrogations. But the general voluntarily loosened up. He was a fighting man trumpeting out a cause. Thus he said to the newspapermen:

"I have told you about the two curses to China, party politics and militarism. I am not a partisan. I regret I cannot help in the elimination of the first curse. But with the latter, I can and will contribute my share. It was more than two years ago that I first advocated the abolition of the tuchunate. Many people believe that disarmament should precede the abolition, because, they argued, as soon as all the troops are disarmed, the tuchuns automatically become powerless and will go out of existence even without our taking the trouble of abolishing their offices.

"This is the ideal way of disbandment and abolition of tuchunate. But there are practical considerations which we must not overlook. The soldiers look to the Tuchun as their guiding hand and example. If the tuchun demonstrates his firm

DYE SHOPS TO START LOCKOUT OF MEN TODAY

Employers Will Retaliate As Result Of Disturbance On Wage Demands

A lockout of all workers in local Chinese dye shops will be enforced today as a result of a feud between employers and laborers which started at the Shaohsin Guild in Nantao on Sunday when a score of people were injured. The controversy originated with the demand made for higher wages on the shops by the workers. More than a hundred foremen met at the guild on Sunday. Six representatives of the shops were also present.

In the discussion that followed a misunderstanding arose, and tea cups, chairs and tables were freely thrown about to enforce their arguments on the hearers, resulting in the injury of a score of people. The currprits were arrested. The owners of the shops have now filed criminal action against the offenders in the Nantao Procurate. They have decided not to resume business until the case is decided upon.

Join The Barker, And, Boy, You'll Eat Heavy!

By Irene Corbally

Hardy adventurers into the uncharted seas of matrimony who have more love than money fondly believe they can live on the former. Great men and fiction writers, however, while praising love as a condition, attach a peculiar significance to the importance of food—solid food. The w.k. general who, before he put his right foot up on a rock and tucked his left hand inside his overcoat in the vicinity of his chest and surveyed the scenery around the island of Elba, had strong ideas on the subject. In fact, Napoleon took such good care of his soldiers when he was a famous general, winning battles, that he declared an army fights on its stomach and proceeded to equip his troops with the kind of chow that made them snappy scrappers. Frenzied fiction writers, handing out advice to wives on how to keep husbands, suggest feeding them well and often.

The "comical steward" on board the U. S. S. "Barker," of the 38th division, must be a student of Napoleon's chow tactics and a believer in treating gobs the way wives should treat husbands, in the matter of food. The "Barker," according to the verbal as well as substantial eye-filling evidence presented by its men, dishes up the best chow of any ship in the squadron.

THEM HEAVY EATERS!

There are at least six heavy eaters who belong to the Avoirdupois Association on board ship and would qualify instantly, if they were in Paris, for membership in the Hundred Kilos Club, which excludes from its membership all thin, worn-out anaemic specimens who do not tip the scales at 200 pounds or over!

Scott, chief carpenter's mate, Tedford, chief yeoman, Bice, the "bleached dungaree boilermaker," and Tiernan, machinist's mate, are the heaviest heavies in the club. Of Tiernan it might well be said that he is last but not least. In fact, he is most. Nobody loves a fat man but everybody loves Tiernan who is the best advertisment of navy chow in Uncle Sam's fleet of steel "buckets," that sails the main and all the rest.

Bice, whose nickname of "bleached dungaree Bice" is his because he would rather wear faded-from-many-washings dungarees, which is the polite expression for the blue navy working pants, than full colored dirty ones, holds the record for the consumption of chicken. In Contantinople the big fellow, his appetite sharpened by the breezes that blow in from the Black Sea, at one sitting, unassisted by any helpers other than his own two reaching arms and clutching hands and the usual allotment of table silver, consumed three and a half chickens!

"How did you get away with that many without being stopped?" I asked him yesterday "Lady, the platter goes around and if any man doesn't take his share that's his grief!"

LAST NIGHT'S CHOW

Chow last night aboard the "Barker" consisted of Hamburger steak, served in the familiar old round shapes and known in the best boarding houses as "meat balls." Cook McHunnis, who can cococt the classiest, tastiest chop suey this side of King Joy-lo's and the Mandarin Inn in Chicago and the 96th street and Broadway and Columbus Circle emporiums in New York, went to bat on the stove in the galley for 230 of the chopped beef balls, the piece de resistance of the gob's chow last night.

"How many does each man eat?" he was asked. The cook instantly became occupied with something else. However, a little mathematics, along the lines that there are about 100 men aboard a destroyer show that if 100 goes into 230 twice with thirty over, two go into every gob and the fast workers and rapid swallowers divvy up on the 30 orphans on the platter. Besides there were in the galley huge aluminium drums, cooking kettles, filled to the top with Lyonnaise potatoes and another vegetable, the Hamburger steaks decoration and the seamen's delectation.

The "Barker" likewise boasts the only electric oven in the squadron. In keeping with the ship's record of service in the Black Sea helping Russian refugees get to safety the oven itself has a war record. It was transferred from a fighting ship now out of commission.

It takes care of cake baking when the cook has time for such delicacies, for life for the kitchen mechanics aboard a destroyer is not so easy as on a big battleship where everything, including spud scaling, is done by electricity. The galley on board a destroyer, as exemplified in the compact cooking quarters on the "Barker," has the folding kitchens of the most modern labor-saving American apartments slinking under their own white porcelain sinks and crying feebly for help.

Chinese Theater Bombed Again; Two Slightly Injured

Two Chinese were slightly injured Sunday night when a bomb exploded at the stage entrance of the Kiukiang Road Chinese theater. It was the second bombing of the theater within a month, and followed several threatening letters in which attempts were made to extort money from the management. The first missile was exploded in the gallery on the theater on June 11, and one man was slightly injured.

U. S. CONSUL GETS CONFIRMATION IN LOBINGIER CASE

Notification That Charges Have Been Withdrawn Is Received Here

Official confirmation of the report received in a private cable several days ago that Judge C. S. Lobingier had been exonerated of all charges made against him by Mr. William S. Fleming at Washington was received yesterday by Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General.

The message received by Mr. Cunningham said that President Harding in dismissing the charges had instructed Judge Lobingier to return to Shanghai at once and re-open the United States Court for China which has not been in operation in the past ten months through which Judge Lobingier has been absent.

The official confirmation of the dismissal of the charges comes three days after the message to the same effect received by Mr. F. J. Schuhl, former United States Commissioner, and published in THE CHINA PRESS at that time. Mr. Schuhl's cable also contained the information that Judge Lobingier was returning on the President Grant on July 26.

American court officials have been keeping everything as up to date as possible during the absence of Judge Lobingier and with his early return it is expected that sittings in the court will be resumed by August 1 at the latest, and that the calendar, which has become choked during his absence, will be cleaned up rapidly.

Only one phase of the controversy —Mr. Fleming's appeal to the United States Supreme Court on his sentence of six months imprisonment for contempt of court—still remains. The Supreme Court, now adjourned, is expected to take up the case upon the resumption of sittings in the autumn and when their decision has been given the last act of the most bitter and prolonged court fight in China will come to an end.

WU PEI-FU MAY HAVE TROUBLE IF SOLDIERS ARE NOT PAID

Serious Situation Is Developing In North

CHANG SPITEFUL

Boasts That His Money Will Yet Achieve Revenge

BY JOSEF W. HALL
Staff Correspondent the China Press

Peking, June 26.—General Wu Pei-fu does not contemplate the despatch of any military expedition in the direction of Shanghai, although he favors the disbandment of the unneeded garrison there under local auspices.

The Chihli leader's courage is still high, as he believes the various mutinies reported from various sources are merely the death throes of the tuchunate system.

General Wu is now negotiating with representatives of Hunan and Szechuen provinces for the evacuation of Chihli troops within their boundaries. In connection with this a threatening situation is developing, as the soldiers demand ten months pay and a bonus for their victory. This money must be forthcoming if disorder is to be averted in the northern provinces.

Chang Tso-lin also continues to be a source of some worry to General Wu, as he is known to have boasted recently that his financial resources would enable him to retrench his recent military misfortunes, and to come out on top.

Peking, June 25.—Peking has been apprised of Sun Yat-sen's reported terms to General Chen Chiung-ming and understands that Sun is willing to resign if the proposed reunification is conducted on the basis of one government dealing with another.

It is thought that such terms mean that Sun is willing to give in if he can save his prestige and have the Canton Government abolished in a dignified manner. For himself Dr. Sun desires the appointment as delegate to deal with Peking.

Wu Pei-fu and several others regard reunification negotiations as superfluous. All that is required, they say, being the general participation in the Parliament to be convened. All previous autonomous conditions are to be overlooked.

Chen Chiung-ming is said to hold a similar view but others emphasise that Dr. Sun still has a large place in the hearts of many Southerners who will give him their support. It is said that Wu Ting-fang held like views and his death, therefore, was a serious loss to Dr. Sun.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 26.—It is stated that the organisation of the Senate Secretariat is now complete, with Mr. Shen Chun-ju as Chief Secretary.

It is reported that Mr. Pan Cheng-hsin will be offered the Chief Secretaryship of the House of Representatives Secretariat, which is to be organised shortly.

Peking, June 26.—It is unofficially stated that the Government are despatching delegates to urge Messrs. Tang Shao-yi and Sun Hung-yi to attend a conference at Peking on reunification.

General Wang Chan-yuan and Mr. Sun Hsiao-liang have arrived from Mukden and report that the armistice on the Shanhaikuan front is being loyally observed. The Fengtien troops have withdrawn to the east of Chinchow and the Chihli forces to the west of Luanchow.

It is reported from Chinwangtao that the evacuation of the Chihli forces is likely to be completed within a week.

Peking, June 23.—A mandate issued at midnight last night states that, conditions on the Hunan-Hupeh border having returned to normal, the Northern garrison at Yochow must withdraw and leave the maintenance of peace and order to a local police force.

General Wu Pei-fu, Hsiao Yao-nan and Chao Heng-ti are instructed to arrange the matter between them.

Hongkong, June 25.—General Chen Chiung-ming has announced that he is retiring from office and is going abroad to study. He nominates Mr. Tang Shao-yi as Civil Governor of Kwangtung.

Canton, June 25.—President Sun Yat-sen is still at Whampoo. He has with him some 3,000 troops who have taken oaths to live or die with him in the present struggle.

The Cantonese forces have elected General Wei Pang-ping Commander of the Forces in Canton City. Other leaders are moving their troops to the northern part of the province to meet Generals Li Lieh-chun and Hsu Tsung-chih.

Dr. Sun's Wife In City, Says Husband Will Stay In South

Mrs. Sun Yat-sen, wife of Dr. Sun, arrived in Shanghai Sunday afternoon and has taken up residence in the Sun home at 29 Rue Molicre in the French Concession.

Mrs. Sun is said to have told friends that Dr. Sun has no intention of coming to Shanghai despite reports, but will stay at Whampao awaiting the return of his Kwangtung Army from the Anti-Northern Expedition, and will then attempt to reassert his power in Canton.

The Sun home was renovated several days before her arrival and it was rumored at that time that Dr. Sun was on his way to Shanghai.

General Kao Shih-pin Is Taken Prisoner

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, June 19.—It is reported in Chinese political circles here that General Kao Shih-pin, Lu Yung-chi and other two military men, who have of late risen in revolt against Marshal Chang Tso-lin and have been defeated by the troops under the command of Marshal Chang, have been taken prisoners in Hunchunhsien, Kirin, by the punitive force under the command of Chang Tsung-chang.

Kershaw, Leese Sued By Employe

Suit brought by Edward Arthur Long against Kershaw, Leese and Co., for damages for alleged wrongful dismissal and breach of contract, was adjourned in the British Supreme Court before Judge Peter Grain yesterday. Mr. Long's claims against the firm comprise a number of items, chief of which are $6,000 for salary for one year from January 1, 1922, $2,000 for salary for four months from December 31, 1921, and various sums for passage money, expense money and commissions.

Special Hearing To Be Held In $45,000 Dope Case

A special hearing will be held in the Mixed Court in the case of a Chinese broker and three coolies who were arrested June 17 while in possession of morphia valued at between $45,000 and $60,000. The four were arraigned in the Mixed Court yesterday before British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Li, but because of the importance of the case a remand was granted for a special hearing.

Three Chinese policemen testified yesterday concerning the arrest. The four defendants were found in an alleyway off Wuchow Road while they were conveying the morphia in a Palace Hotel motor van. The drugs were discovered in three suitcases in the van. Superintendent of Police Vaughn is prosecuting for the police.

Seven Are Held On Ten Charges Of Armed Robbery

Ten charges were brought against seven Chinese, alleged to be armed robbers, who were arraigned before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan in the Mixed Court yesterday. Chief among the crimes with which the men are charged, in all of which the victims were held up at pistol's point, is a robbery at 30 Purdon Road on January 24, in which $1,600 was stolen. The case was remanded for a special hearing.

Sino-Japanese Delegates Meet To Arrange Details Of Shantung Agreement

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 26.—The Sino-Japanese Shantung Commission held their initial meeting at the Waichiaopu this morning. The Chinese Delegation were headed by Dr. C. T. Wang and numbered about 40 persons, the Japanese, led by Mr. Obata, being about 30 strong.

After an exchange of greetings, the meeting discussed the modus operandi and decided that a first commission, dealing with the transfer of the Tsingtao Administration, should meet every Monday and Thursday beginning on June 29 and that a second commission, for the transfer of the Shantung Railway, should sit every Tuesday and Friday from June 30.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, June 26.—Representatives of Japan and China, who are to hold a conference as to details in connection with the Shantung Treaty, had the first meeting today at 10 a.m., in the course of which Mr. Obata, Japanese Minister to Peking made the following statement:

"The exchange of ratifications of the Shantung Treaty, which was agreed upon and signed between the delegates of Japan and China at Washington on February 4 of this year, was completed without a hitch on the 2nd instant and it is a matter for great satisfaction and pleasure that representatives of the two countries have met here according to the provisions laid down in the Treaty with a view to reaching an agreement on details.

"The mission of the Sino-Japanese commission lies in the strict observance of the provisions and the spirit of the Shantung Treaty concluded at Washington and also in the speedy fair and proper settlement of details of the Shantung question. That the Imperial Government of Japan has always been and is still endeavoring to devise some relief-measures to bring the Shantung Treaty to an amicable conclusion will be evidenced by the fact that Japan has of late completed the withdrawal of Japanese railway guards from Shantung, the fact which the powers-that-be of the Chinese Government are, I am confident, fully appreciating. In the meantime the authorities of the Chinese Government are with sincerity doing their utmost to accelerate the formation of remedial measures with regard to the Shantung Treaty.

COMPLICATED DETAILS

"The substance of the details on which the representatives of both countries are to confer is complicated and branches off in various directions, comprising not a few items which have direct effect upon the future of the peoples of Japan and China. In consequence, it is probable that the representatives of both countries may come across problems that are very difficult, but in such cases, if the representatives of the two countries consult without reserve, an amicable agreement, satisfactory to all concerned, will, we feel assured, be reached. It is needless to reiterate here in this connection, that after having frequent interviews with Dr. C. T. Wang, we have found the point of agreement of views with him. In short, the Japanese delegates make it their motto to bring the present Sino-Japanese negotiations to conclusion with righteousness, sincerity and frankness, with the object of solving details of the Shantung Treaty as speedily as possible, and heartily hope that the friendship between the Governments and peoples of the two countries will become more cordial than ever."

Dr. C. T. Wang, the chief delegate for China, then spoke as follows:

"Today, both Japanese and Chinese delegates having met here, it is really a happy moment for me to shake hands and exchange friendly talks with you.

"We are trying to establish the foundation of friendly relations between China and Japan for the sake of the permanent peace of the Far East.

"The Shantung questions have been pending for eight years, but at the time when the Washington Conference commenced to discuss the question of the reduction of the naval strength, the delegates of Japan and China proposed to discuss the question and they have shown a conciliatory attitude.

"What was decided at Washington was merely the general principles and in effecting the detailed arrangements much depends upon our joint efforts at this conference, which thus may be considered an extension of the Washington Conference.

MAY BE EASILY SOLVED

"In the present joint conference in connection with the details of the Shantung question, it may be easily solved by our mutual sincerity and understanding if we will consider the actual importance of the affairs. And though the Washington Conference has not attained its merits carried out as yet, yet if we will express our mutual sincerity to have an amicable settlement, it will become not only the basis of the mutual existence and prosperity for the two countries, but also we may be able to show the world powers that the Oriental people are able to solve the affairs in the Far East by their own efforts.

"In opening this conference, I express my views to hope to obtain good result based on the principles laid down, etc."

The first meeeting of the delegates for the first section (relating to the administrative affairs) will be held at 9 a.m. on June 29 while that of the second section (relating to the railways) at 9 a.m. on June 30 and after that, the first section will meet every Monday and the second section on every Tuesday and Friday.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefuly and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Fire On S. S. Irene Is Checked By Crew

Word was received yesterday at the Shanghai offices of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company that the coasting steamer Irene of the company was on fire at Newchwang. The reports received stated that the blaze which originated in the crew's quarters forward were checked before serious damage was done to the vessel, and damage done to the cargo largely was caused by water.

The Irene is a cargo steamer of about 600 tons carrying no passengers and recently has not been used on any specified run.

"I have all the life insurance I want."

"LET us see. Your salary is six thousand dollars a year. You carry ten thousand dollars insurance, and you say that it is all you want. If you had a building worth a hundred thousand dollars, and if it were bringing you an income of six thousand dollars a year net, how much fire insurance would you carry on it? You wouldn't be satisfied with ten thousand dollars, would you? You would take a hundred thousand dollars if you could get it but you probably couldn't get over eighty thousand dollars. Then don't be satisfied with ten thousand dollars life insurance, for the situations are exactly alike."

Germany's Monarchist Flag Is Denounced As 'Banner Of Murderers'

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, June 26.—In the course of the debate in the Reichstag yesterday Herr Wels, a Majority Socialist, declared that the Monarchist flag of Germany had become the standard of murderers.

Herr Hergt (Pan- German) declared that the German National Party abhorred the murder of Dr. Rathenau but denounced the Government's measures, announced in the Presidential decree. Herr Hergt was much interrupted by shouts of "Murderer!" and "Hypocrite!" from the Left.

Herr Crispien (Independent Socialist) declared that the old officer caste was now trying to murder its own countrymen and that unless the Government dismissed the officers from the Reichswehr and the police, the workers would be obliged to act in self-defense and answer violence with violence.

Dr. Wirth declared that the Allies in the past year had inflicted on the German Government almost continual humiliations and it was impossible to keep democratic Germany alive in such conditions. The Entente must forego its policy of ultimatums and dictatorships. He appealed to all to unite and destroy the present atmosphere of murder and to work for the re-establishment of democracy. "Our enemies are those who pour poison into the wounds of the nation. Those enemies are on the Right." Loud Applause.

Berlin, June 25.—Strict measures which will strongly affect monarchist militarist activities are set forth in a Presidential decree issued today.

STRICT MEASURES

They provde for the prohibition of meetings, processions and propaganda which might incite towards the destruction of the Republic or violence against Ministers. Anti-Republican associations may be proclaimed.

Heavy penalties are laid down against sedition-mongers.

The decree lays down that the Anti-Republican arrangements planned for June 28 to discuss acceptance of the Peace Treaty may be forbidden.

The Government has increased the reward from 300,000 to 1,000,000 marks for the capture of the murderers of Dr. Rathenau.

London, June 25.—Mr. Walther Rathenau is regarded as a victim of the beginning of internal convulsions in Germany, where there has been a growth of monarchist intrigues. Reports of a great revolutionary movement against the Republic are widely current.

It is believed that the murderers belong to one of the numerous secret political societies composed of ex-officers,.

Dr. Rathenau's political position had weakened since the Rapallo Treaty with the Bolsheviks, while his view that Germany should make a real effort to fulfil the Treaty of Versailles incurred bitter criticism by the more Chauvinistic sections.

TASK FOR WIRTH

The opinion is expressed that the Chancellor, Dr. Wirth, will find it almost impossible to replace the late Foreign Minister, whose assassination may bring about the fall of the present storm-tossed Administration as it will almost certainly retard the settling down of Europe.

Berlin, June 25.—The entire Cabinet were present in the Reichstag yesterday afternoon.

Herr Helferich, on entering, was assailed with furious cries of "murderer." The Communist and Socialists, advancing towards the Conservative benches, shouted: "Out with the murderer."

Dr. Wirth, endeavoring to quieten the pandemonium, was greeted with cries of "you will be the next."

Herr Loebe, the President, eventually restoring order, passionately declared that the murderers were supported by an organisation of murderers. Cries from the Left of "Long live the Republic" greeted his conclusive speech.

The Chancellor paid a tribute to the deceased's work at the Genoa Conference and declared that the task of strengthening the Republic would not be suspended b his death. Criminal agitation was being carried on from Koenigsberg to Constance and matters could not go on as they had done so far. Dr. Wirth called on all having the interests of freedom at heart to rally to the defence of the Fatherland. There was tremendous applause.

Herr Dittman (Socialist) stated that his party had been reliably informed that the murder of Dr. Rathenau was to be the signal for the monarchist and militarist elements to rise against the Republic. He begged the House to take heed.

Berlin, June 24.—Dr. Rathenau had left his house this morning to motor to the Foreign Office when he was fired at with revolvers by two persons, who were slowly motoring ahead of him and killed on the spot. The assassins put on full speed and escaped. A lady accompanied Dr. Rathenau when he left the house. Five minutes later the car returned with his corpse. The assassins fired six shots and threw a bomb. One bullet passed through Dr. Rathenau's mouth. The scene of the crime was an unfrequented spot at the corner of the Koenigsplatz and the Erdener Sprasse. Police in motorcars and on bicycles are scouring Berlin in pursuit of the murderers.

The assassination was undoubtedly of a political nature and emphasises the seriousness of the repeated warnings which have been received of a coup d'etat on June 28.

The Cabinet met immediately to consider measures to protect the Republic.

At a meeting of the Prussian Diet this afternoon, the Socialist, Herr Meyer, in the course of a speech said: "Helfferich, Von der Tann, Schlosser, Reichert, and von Reichenberger arrived in Berlin yesterday. Today Rathenau was assassinated. This is counter-revolution." There were shouts from the Extreme Left of "Out with the murderers!"

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed in the Reichstag after the murder. Radical Deputies set on General von Schoch, a member of the People's Party, who had to be removed from the House. Later the Socialist, M. Unterleitner, entered the Chamber with a wreath, tied with the Monarchical colors, on which was inscribed "A present for Helfferich", whereupon several persons seized the youth carrying the wreath and hurled him down stairs where he was handed over to the police.

Pan-German festivities were held throughout the country on the occasion of mid-summer day. Reichswehr troops, covered with war medals, paraded the streets of Potsdam with brass bands. Marshal Von Hindenburg took part in the celebrations at Potsdam.

According to Vorwaerts, Eschrich, the notorious organiser of the Bavarian Einwohnerwehr, arrived in Berlin four hours previous to the murder of Dr. Rathenau and stayed at a well-known hotel. Inquiries after the murder showed that he had departed for an unknown destination.

Note:—Dr. Rathenau was Manager of the Allgemeine Electoricitaets Gesellschaft in private life. He was appointed Minister of Reconstruction last year.

London, June 25.—In the course of a speech in London today Mr. Lloyd George said that Dr. Rathenau was one of the ablest men in Europe and was doing his best for his country and striving to restore her good relations with the countries she had wronged. He expressed the deepest horror at the outrage and hoped that Germany would not suffer as a result.

British Court Hears Further Testimony In Suit Against Haynes

The Chinese assistant in charge of the Chinese department of Watson's aerated water factory occupied the witness-box during the greater part of yesterday's hearing of the suit brought by Kwok Vee Ye against W. J. Haynes in connection with the sale of the factory before Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court.

The salient feature of his testimony was with regard to an alleged conversation between Kwok and the defendant some three years ago, in which he had acted as interpreter. The defendant, he said, had declared with reference to some bottles made in Japan that if a reorder was made it "is not necessary to tell A. S. Watson and Co., Ltd., of Hongkong about it." In cross-examination he maintained that Mr. Haynes had not said that it was contrary to the agreement with Watsons to use the bottles. Further testimony concerned the output of the factory.

Hays Wants Public To Help In Fight For Clean Films

(Reuter's Service)

Pittsburgh, May 26.—A plea for the public to stand behind and help the motion picture producers in their efforts to maintain a clean moral tone in film productions was voiced here this morning by Mr. Will H. Hays, former Postmaster General and now president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributers of America before an audience at Carnegie Institute.

He declared he was entirely convinced of the sincerity and earnestness of the large producers and distributors in the organisation and he pledged his hearers the best efforts of his association.

"While asking for your aid and cooperation," said Mr. Hays, "I would like to ask too that you judge us by our actual performances rather than by any promises we may make. We are building this industry for years to come—for generations to come—and, though our progress may seem perhaps slow at the beginning, the results, we are confident, will be certain and permanent."

Mr. Hays stated that $800,000,000 a year is paid in 'movie' admissions and that the industry represents an investment of $500,000,000 employing 50,000 persons at annual salaries totalling $50,000,000.

Gary Advocates Sales Tax In U. S.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, May 26.—Mr. Elbert H. Gary in his annual address as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, in session at Hotel Commodore today, advocated that Congress take the tariff out of business; that it play no favorites in its tendency to regulate things; that it substitute a sales tax for the income tax; and that it forget the soldier bonus until the nation is less severely burdened financially.

As for the business future of America, Mr. Gray described himself as "still an optimist." In the iron and steel industry, he said, "the profits are not satisfactory, but few, if any, ought to be doing business at a loss."

First Class Is Graduated At Bethel School

An interesting occasion took place at Bethel, 17 Arsenal Road, last week, when Dr. Mary Stone's first class of nurses held their graduation exercises. Though less than two years old, the work has grown by the demands made upon it, so that there are more than fifty pupil nurses at the Hospital and a graduating class of three.

Dr. Stone and her associates, Dr. Phebe and Dr. Twenchih Stone have two city dispensaries and three in Pootung, where they are treating an average of over 3,000 cases a month. Two internes from the Hackett Medical in Canton are joining them as assistants next week.

Last week's graduation day saw some promising students receive their Lower Primary diplomas, while hundreds of friends looked on, marvelling at their progress in English, and the finished manner in which they delivered Chinese essays, sang in chorus, and acquitted themselves at the piano.

DESTROYER ALDEN SAILS TO GREET SECRETARY DENBY

Unit Of Fleet Here Leaving Today To Escort Navy Head To Shanghai

In order to greet Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby at Yokohama and act as an honorary escort of the U. S. Transport Henderson on which Secretary Denby is coming to Shanghai, the Destroyer Alden of the fleet of eighteen destroyers in port is sailing this morning for Japan. Secretary Denby is to arrive in Shanghai on July 17.

It is understood that the Alden will proceed at once to Yokohama. The Transport Henderson with Secretary Denby is scheduled to arrive there on July 2. Aboard the Transport with Secretary Denby is a party of sixty most of whom are members of the Annapolis Academy graduating class of 1881 and kinspeople of members of the class. A reunion of this class, of which Senator O. E. Weller of Maryland, who has been president for the past twenty years and who is in the party, is to be held at Tokio on July 4. It is understood that after this celebration the entire party will come on to Shanghai on the transport.

CHAO TI, HONAN TUCHUN, EXPOSED AS DRUG SELLER

Promises To Help Suppress — Opium Shown To Be Insincere

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 22.—A recent article in the Chen Pao shows how sincere General Chao Ti was in his expressions of regret to the International Anti-Opium Association for the suspension of the Honan Branch of the Association and his promise to give the Association all the aid in his power. The Chen Pao says that following the search in connection with the confiscation of General Chao Ti's property by order of General Feng Yu-hsiang, twenty-five boxes of opium were seized in Lumg Hin-hsiao's residence, ten more boxes on the premises of Shih Jung-lung. All the opium belonged to General Chao Ti.

The Chinese Charge d'Affaires in London recently stated that an investigation would be made of the opium produced in China, but when officials are themselves concerned in the trade it will always be most difficult for the Chinese to obtain reliable information regarding poppy cultivation and the traffic in opium in China, but in the International Anti-Opium Association the Government has a force which has never yet received the support from the Government which its disinterested and sole work deserves. It spares no country or person in its efforts to bring about drug suppression, which is undoubtedly one of the most important reforms awaiting the attention of the Chinese Government and which must be taken in hand vigorously as soon as other and more pressing works of reconstruction and reform are dealt with, if China is to become what her ardent reformers desire.

General Feng is giving evidence of his desire to suppress poppy cultivation and opium traffic in Honan with a vigor which promises to place Honan on a par with Shansi in that respect.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A touch of rheumatism, or a twinge of neuralgia, whatever the trouble is Chamberlain's Pain Balm drives away the pain at once and cures the complaint quickly: First application gives relief. When a bottle of it is kept in the house the pain of burns and scalds may be promptly relieved, cuts and bruises quickly healed and swellings promptly reduced. In fact, for the household ills it is just such an embrocation as every family should be provided with.

Japanese Shoes On Feet Of Foochow Cops Cause Strife

(China Press Correspondence)

Foochow, June 15.—While some students were out on a sanitary and moral welfare expedition, they met some policemen who were, as they thought, wearing shoes which had been purchased from the Japanese. As the Japanese boycott is still raging here, the students ordered the policemen to remove their shoes, which they were obliged to do.

In a short time a number of policemen stationed themselves near the gate of the Y. M. C. A. School and as a couple of students came out through the gate they were seized by these policemen who thought that they were the leaders of the company who had obliged them to remove their shoes. Quite a scuffle ensued and resulted in the boys being taken to jail.

Notwithstanding the fact that these boys declared that they were innocent they were roughly handled and thrown into prison. In a short time the friends of the students appeared in their behalf and after explanations and promises the policemen promised to release them at midnight. Instead of so doing the students were sent into the city where they were kept for a day or more and then released.

This had created quite a stir among the student body, especially among the students of the Christian schools, and therefore the breach between the Christian schools and the government is widening. What the outcome of this will be remains to be seen.

Third Attempt At Everest Is Failure

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 26.—The Calcutta correspondent of the Daily Telegraph learns from a reliable source that the leaders of the Mount Everest expedition have decided that further progress is impossible in the present weather conditions. A third attempt to reach the summit took the climbers less than 150 feet above the 27,200 feet previously attained and several members of the party were badly frostbitten. It is understood that General Bruce is very reluctant to abandon the attempts but has been forced to conclude that persistence would only end in useless tragedy.

"Syphons, Syphons, Syphons"

You will find Aerated Waters bottled in Syphons very economical. Frequently you want just one glass, but have to open a bottle for it. The rest is liable to become stale, or to lose its effervescence. With Syphons it is different. You just press the lever and draw off what you require. The remainder in the hermetically closed bottle remains fresh and effervescent to the last drop. No looking for openers. We have sufficient stock of Syphons to comply with orders to any extent.

Sodawater, "Crystall ia" the Champion Table Water, Tonic Water, Lithia, Seltzer, Brom-Seltzer (invaluable in headache), Apollinaris, prepared fresh daily from the salts, etc., may all be had in Syphons.

Sunday
Buffalo vs 38th Div'n, 2 p.m.
Shanghai vs 37th Div'n, 3:45 p.m.

Brilliant and bonehead baseball evenly mixed gave Shanghai a 4-3 win over the California Collegians Sunday afternoon at the Baseball Club's field. The brilliancy came when runs were in prospect or when the visitors threatened. The bone headed work was not of much value in the scoring. Shanghai got its four tallies all in the fourth inning on a pass, three hits and a beautiful squeeze by Thatch when Bills was rearing to go from third.

Scott pitched one of the greatest games in his career in holding the visitors yesterday for the small end of the score. There were many California errors to help his teammates around the bases, but his own great work from the mound was the ruling factor.

John found himself in two pinches during the game but by heady and strong arm pitching he worked his way out. He fanned eight opposing players, but even that does not tell the tale of his effectiveness. He did most of his pitching when bases were filled and the games' score was threatened

The Collegians play again this afternoon against a fleet nine in the second half of a double header, the 1rst half of which will see the flagship Huron meeting the 37th Division of the torpedo flotilla. present leaders for the Rosenfeld cup.

Sunday's score follows:

Navy Men Hold Track And Field Meet On Fourth

On the Fourth of July it is anticipated to hold a field and track meet in the forenoon; all contestants to be enlisted men of the United States Navy.

The following events to be held:

100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, Quarter mile run, Half mile run, One mile run, Running broad jump, High jump, Polo Vault, Shot put, Mile relay, Potato race, Sack race, Three-legged race, Tug-of-War between Destroyer Squadron and Huron.

The Shanghai Municipal Council has reserved the athletic field at Hongkew Park for the use of the United States Navy at this time for this purpose.

FERRIER'S FOUR SCORE HIGHEST BOWLING TOTAL

BY "THE SHOT"

Despite the downpours during the weekend, the ground was in a condition to absorb it all and when the time for play to commence came, the greens were in a surprisingly good condition. Several of the players originally selected failed to turn up but ample reserves were on tap and 80 plays indulged in a delightful competition, five rinks being played on the Recs and five on the S. L. B. C. greens.

The winners eventually proved to be the rink skipped by Fraser Ferrier and I must congratulate his team upon a particularly good performance. On paper his team looked anything but strong and they were up against four players of quite good calibre. Fraser as skip is of course top hole and his efforts must have had a material effect on the remainder of his team. Such is the effect of a good reliable skip as to bring the best out of his mates.

I notice the much discussed question of lightly biassed woods is cropping up again and in fairness to our association official I must state that arrangements had been made for providing means of correctly testing doubtful woods at the commencement of the season but somehow or other the plans for the testing device has gone astray.

On the whole I think we are getting on very well and our ruling body are due for a lot of praise for the painstaking way they carry out their duties. At the same time I consider the time has come when all trundlers should be members of the association with a fee of say $1.00 per year. There should also be an annual general meeting at which all lawn bowlers who are affiliated with the association should be present when officials would be elected and suggestions and proposals discussed. As a matter of fact I hope to see something on these lines in force next season. The results of the all Shanghai game are:

California Tennis Men Booked For Many Matches

Every Big Club And All-Star Shanghai Teams To Meet Visitors

When the California University tennis team of four arrive here today it will find itself booked up not only with the best clubs' team of Shanghai, but scheduled as well in two matches against all Shanghai teams. Singles and doubles will be played against the Cricket Club, the Country Club, the Recs, the French Club, and against All-Shanghai teams. The names of the Shanghai players to meet the Californians will be announced shortly. An admission fee of $1 will be charged at the French Club.

Captain Wallace Bates, the 45th ranking tennis player of the United States; Wilson, the freshman phenom who made the trip to the Orient in place of a varsity star, Carrol Jensen and Conrad, making up the University of California tennis team, will arrive in Shanghai today on the President McKinley after a successful tour of Japan.

The intercollegiate champions will meet the best local teams and individuals and will be here until the eighth of July.

In Bates and Wilson, Shanghai will see two of the best college players in the United States as the former is the intercollegiate title holder and Wilson, though a freshman, bids fair to make a brilliant record in American college tennis.

Bates is by far the best and was handicapped by his physique from gaining higher honors in American tennis a year ago. He is very tall and slender and has not the stamina to stand a gruelling match. This is how Rumsey defeated him in Japan. Just before he went into the intercollegiate finals, he defeated Johnson, second ranking player in America. Johnson claims that Bates will be among the first ten next season.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

June 26, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were unchanged in London on Saturday.

The New York price declined to 70½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 438½.

The only changes of importance in our rates here today were a drop in the Gold Dollar rate to 77¾, and a rise in the Franc rate to 925.

Our market in Sterling was steady today, although Gold Dollars and Yen were a shade easier than on Saturday.

In the morning, business in Sterling was done at rates varying between 3-6¾ and 3-6⅞ for all deliveries to August.

In the afternoon, however, rates firmed up, speculators being rather strong sellers, and a fair amount of business in Sterling was done at 3-7 for July, August and September deliveries and in Gold Dollars at 78¾ for the same deliveries. The market closed steady with sellers at these rates.

Gold Dollars were done at 78½ for June, 78⅝ for July and 78¼ for August September.

There was nothing doing in the London silver market on Saturday, which is reported as quiet and steady.

New York report their market as about steady, with some sellers at the official quotation.

Singapore Rubber Auction

Singapore, June 8, 1922

The improvement in the London market reported last week did not sustain for long. Prices have again sagged partly due to the failure of a large operator in London, and consequent forced liquidation of stocks. This morning London is reported down to 7⅜d. and New York at 14½ cents. In the local market a fair business has been done on the decline, but buyers are still in predominance although at lower prices.

Owing to the intervening Whitsuntide holidays the weekly auction took place on Thursday instead of, as usual, on Wednesday. The demand was altogether fair, Standard Sheet parcels and Sheet equal to Standard, together with good F.A.Q. lots, being in particularly good demand.

Prices, however, show an all-round decline as compared with last week's.

About 800 tons were catalogued for sale, of which 601 tons were offered and 506 tons sold.

Awarded Singapore Standard Sheet fetched 24½ cents, which shows a decline of 1½ cents. The majority of lots of this grade were withdrawn, sellers undoubtedly holding out for better prices in the outside market.

Sheet equal to Standard and Good F.A.Q. lots show the same decline.

Only two lots of Awarded Standard 1st Latex Crepe changed hands; one lot, packed in shippable cases, realised 25 cents, and the other lot in loose condition sold at 24½ cents.

Crepe equal to Standard was wanted at a decline of ½ cent per lb.

Off Color Latex was shown a fair amount of interest.

Brown, Dark and Barky Crepes declined on an average about 1½ cents.

The market tendency at the close became easier.

Wu Pei-fu Endorses Admiral Tu's Plan

(Independence News Service)

Hankow, June 21.—General Wu Pei-fu has endorsed the proposal of Admiral Tu Shih-kwei, Commander of the Second Squadron of the Chinese Navy on service on the Yangtsze to increase the force of landing parties of gunboats of that squadron. About 1,000 troops from Paotingfu have been relieved by General Wu so that they may be trained up for service in the Yangtsze Navy.

Shell Co. Reports Prosperous Year

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 24.—The Shell Transport and Trading Company's report for the year ending December 31 shows:—

Total Income £5,627,000, a decrease of £2,042,000 as compared with 1920.

Expenses £139,000 (?), an increase of £98,000 as compared with 1920.

Total Available for distribution £7,495,000, a decrease of £1,375,000.

Dividends £5,425,000, a decrease of £1,437,000.

Carried Forward £2,070,000, an increase of £63,000.

The Directors assure the shareholders of the continued prosperity of the business. They consider that the reduction of the dividend, announced on June 3, is the soundest course in the interest of that prosperity; the Company's financial position is as strong as ever.

Agreement Near In Banque Case

(Reuter's Special Service)

Paris, June 24.—The Matin learns regarding the negotiations for the reconstruction of the Banque Industrielle de Chine that an agreement in principle has been reached and only a few points of detail remain to be settled. The Ministers have approved the conclusions of the Commission which has been entrusted with the investigation of the Bank's affairs.

The hearing of the case against M. Pernotte was resumed today when evidence was adduced, calculating the result of the alleged irregular conversion of his gratuity of 200,000 francs and of the 300,000 francs alleged to have been improperly collected. The statements of several of the directors were submitted, stating that they would never have voted the gratuity if they had known that it would be converted into taels. The Court further heard claims by shareholders in respect of holdings against M. Pernotte and equally against the directors, which the latter contested.

determination that he would sacrifice his position on general principles, the soldier would also look towards somewhere other than the army for his livelihood. It is my conviction that disbandment will be difficult unless the tuchuns make a determined effort to quit.

DETERMINED TO QUIT

"In the middle of this month, I saw my opportunity of carrying out what have been advocating for the last two years. I was determined to quit the tuchunate with the hope that other tuchuns may also be awakened to this spirit of self-determination, which is absolutely essential if the nation is to be saved. I was determined to live in retirement.

"Then came the local gentry, the business men and educationalists and assemblymen with the question of rehabilitation, offering the work to me. I was aware of the possibility of suspicion that outsiders might have for this change were I to accept it. They might think that the change was merely superficial, merely a switch of names, I hesitated.

"But on second thought, I felt that I could dispel this suspicion by a time limit placed to the work of rehabilitation. Six months is all I am allowed to carry out this important function. By the end of that period, I will return the power that has been vested in me to the competent authority, the people, and let them decide what to do next. Of course, the best thing could happen is that by the end of the six months, a legally constituted government shall have been established so that Chekiang can take orders from Peking as it should. However, even if reunification is not realised by then, I shall turn over my office, and leave it to the people as to what they like to do then.

"Needless for me to elucidate on the importance of rehabilitation in this or any other province. A soldier cannot be sent away like a servant. He must have some means of subsistence after being turned away. Moreover, among the soldiers, their disposition are different and it is useless to make them go to some work to which they are not adapted.

COLONISATION PLANS

"Take, for instance, the troops from Chihli, Shantung, Honan, Northern Anhui and Northern Kiangsu. They have a distinct militant and aggressive temperament all their own. If they are to be disbanded, it is most difficult for them to go to civil life. The only work that I venture to suggest for them will be colonization work in Mongolia. This of course involves a great mass of detail. It is futile to send them out to Mongolia and leave them there after allotting some lands to them. They must be taken care of, at least for the first two years. It may be necessary that the government might have to allow them the usual wages before they can acclimate themselves.

"Then, too, the temperament of the soldiery must be ascertained before they are assigned civil work. To force a man to work on something which he does not like is a mere waste of time and energy. Road-making by soldiery cannot last forever. Construction of railways, afforestation, waterway conservancy and reclaimation all require unskilled labor such as we find among the rank and file of the army.

"But disarmament in Chekiang shall not come until a general plan of disbandment is formulated, which should be just and fair to the troops concerned. The disarmament of the troops of a section of the army brings no results as is shown in the case of the eleventh division. This was ordered to be disbanded sometime ago. Yet today, General Feng Yu-hsiang still commands a division by that name. I might disband my tenth division now, but who knows that someone is not going to create another tenth division in the future, if there is no general plan.

"In the actual process of disbandment, there must be just as well scientific apportionment. Take this province: Chekiang has its own native forces as well as Northern soldiers. It will not be fair to send away all the northern soldiers and leave the natives behind or vice versa. It will not be scientific if the fighting soldiers are curtailed, while the old and illiterate remain. You see how important a national plan for disarmament is?"

There was a hint of challenge in the remark, restrained yet recognisable. It was the expression of one who has the unyielding determination of a self-confident man.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO WU

Incidentally, General Lu paid a high tribute to the service rendered to the nation by Dr. Wu Ting-fang, expressed regret of the ill-advised coup effected by General Chen Chiung-ming in Canton and voiced the belief that there is no cause for alarm in Shanghai in view of the denials issued by Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan of Kiangsu, General Wu Pei-fu and Admiral Tu Shih-kwei of the rumor that the latter was coming to Shanghai with 6,000 troops. He is opposed to foreign loans before the genuine reunification of the country.

As to General Ho Feng-lin's position, the director said: "Even the tuchunate must go, why not a Defense Commissioner's Yamen!" Here he smiled another broad smile. There was a moment of silence. And General Lu returned to his habitual manner of self-effacing modesty. Bowing deeply to each of his guests, he saw them off at the gate. Save the clicking of the heels of the two orderlies, there was no military display.

all equipment vanished. Seeing three men, who looked like coolies prowling around he put them out by force.

Then he was amazed to discover that they carried guns in their belts. More and more "soldiers" arrived, the majority in uniform (khaki shorts), threatening and menacing.

Without stopping to investigate the unusual circumstances or discussing matters, Mr. Croft departed in haste. Upon reaching his home he learned of the capture of Canton and then he began to worry about what might have happened.

HOW BABY'S OWN TABLETS ARE HELPING IN INDIA

The fame of Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, spreads apace. Here is a message of praise and thanks recently from India. Its writer, Mr. B. Sharma, head clerk at the Cavalry School, Saugor, Central Provinces, states:—

"My baby son, aged 9 months, has been subject to various maladies usual among infants during their teething period. Diarrhoea with slow fever was the leading trouble. The child purged as often at 30 times in 24 hours and vomited undigested milk.

"When I commenced giving him Baby's Own Tablets his condition appeared to be almost hopeless, but the contents of one vial had a marvellously soothing effect. His maladies then gradually disappeared, and by the time three vials were finished the child had regained his full strength."

No home where there are young children should be without Baby's Own Tablets. They are an ever-ready remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, teething pains, croup, colds and worms. Druggists sell them, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

TOKIO EXPLAINS WHY TROOPS ARE TO QUIT SIBERIA

Changed Attitude Of World Toward Soviet Cited

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, June 24.—Referring to the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia, the foreign affairs office states as follows:—

"Despite the fact that we have always wished to carry into effect the evacuation of Japanese forces of Siberia at the earliest possible date, we have, unfortunately, been unable to do so owing to various unavoidable circumstances. Though the political situation in eastern Siberia, has not been fully stabilised viewed from the general situation in Russia as a whole, it will be seen that Soviet Russia has already abolished its terrorism and is gradually making improvements upon the plans of communism.

"As a consequence, the Powers, who have hitherto regarded the Soviet Government as a menace, have of late changed their attitude in favor of the latter with the result that since last year several agreements have been entered into between some countries in Europe and Soviet Russia and quite recently an international conference was held at Genoa by all important countries in the world, with the exception of the United States, to which Russia was also invited and at which delegates of Russia personally conferred with the delegates of the Powers present.

"Furthermore, at The Hague, negotiations are to all appearance about to be conducted between the delegates of Russia and those of the Powers. Not only has thus the fashion of the world, which has hitherto looked upon Russia as a menace, been gradually changed with the reformation of Russia herself but also at Genoa the so-called non-invasion agreement was concluded between Russia and the Powers concerned, though the term is measured, thereby it being agreed upon to prohibit the propagation of Communism and Bolshevism as well as the invasion of frontiers.

"There is likewise a tendency among the powers of establishing and securing more firmly than ever world peace in future on the line of the agreement above mentioned. In view of the above state of affairs in the world, the Imperial Government have now definitely decided to carry out the withdrawal of Japanese troops, as, in fact, it is anything but a cherished desire of the Japanese Government to keep their troops in the Maritime Province. The fact that at the Dairen conference no definite conclusion was reached with regard to commerce and other matters is much regretted, but now that the cause for the rupture of the negotiations at the Dairen Conference between the delegates of Japan and the Far Eastern Republic, which was the question of the evacuation of Japanese troops of Siberia, has been entirely swept away, it is more than likely that the two countries will endeavor again to open Russo-Japanese negotiations in the near future with the object of concluding an agreement regarding commerce between the two countries. The decision of the Japanese Government on the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia, coupled with the conciliatory attitude demonstrated by Japan at the Washington Conference will without doubt go a long way toward indicating the fact that Japan is by no means an agressive nation but that she is virtually doing her utmost to contribute to world peace."

Wuchang, Hankow Ask Tuchun Hsiao To Abolish Office

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, June 23.—With a view to accelerating the national movement of troops and abolition of Tuchunate, representatives of Wuhan organisations, including the Wuchang and Hankow Chambers of Commerce, held a meeting in Hankow yesterday, and it was subsequently resolved that an appeal should be made to Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan that he accentuate his sincerity in complying with this national movement by doing away with Tuchunship in Hupeh. The general opinion was expressed that by retaining his position as Commander of the 25th Division of Chihli troops now at his command, General Hsiao can easily maintain the status quo in this province.

A petition worded in the above sense has been submitted to General Hsiao who was requested to grant an interview to a delegation of representatives of Wuhan organisations on June 25, Sunday.

Kiangsi Province Quiet; General Tsai Has Troops In Hand

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, June 23—Conditions in the turmoiled part of Kiangsi, from Kian to Nanchang on the Kan River, have greatly improved within the last two days, according to reliable information from foreign sources. Those Kiangsi troops that mutinied and looted at Kian on June 20 are now being reorganised by the new Commander of Kiangsi, General Tsai Chen-hsun, who is endeavoring to keep the rampant troops of his predecessor within bounds. Aside from proclaiming martial law in the Nanchang region, General Tsai has ordered his subordinates to take drastic steps in dealing with looters and mutineers. It now appears that Kiangsi troops are being placed under control and restraint by General Tsai.

The authorities at Nanchang have repeatedly assured foreigners at Nanchang of protection, with the result that most foreigners now decline to go out of the region on board the H. M. S. Cockchaffer, which hurried to Nanchang to safeguard foreign interests. The U. S. S Monocacy has arrived at Nanchang from Kiukiang, and will probably remain there to insure protection to foreigners.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Nanchang, with the view of saving the situation from developing to helpless state, has paid the Civil Governor $14,000 so that unpaid troops and police force of Nanchang may get part of their pay. The Chinese populace remains in a perturbed state of mind, and refugees are still leaving.

Kiangsi Officials Leave Province

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanchang, Kiangsi, June 19.—Tuchun Chen Kuang-yuan and Civil Governor Yang Ch'in-jen left Nanchang quietly on a special train at three o'clock this morning. They were met in Kiukiang with much ceremony and a brass band by General Wu Chin-piao and it is supposed that from there they will proceed to their homes in Tientsin. Of the important old northern officials, Commissioner of Police Yen is almost the only man remaining.

Proclamations posted about the streets this morning announced that all matters pertaining to the maintenance of order in the city were in the hands of the "Chun-wu-shu Tsung-ssu-ling" Tsai Ch'eng-hsun. It is interesting, even if not significant, that General Tsai does not style himself as Tuchun.

The Taoyen at first refused to take over the seals of the civil governor pending the arrival of Hsieh Yuan-kan, but upon the urgent petition of local societies consented to do so. Hsieh Yuan-kan is an old Kiangsi man, much liked by the people and said to be now with Li Lieh-chun in Kanchow.

CHOLERA AT WUCHANG

(Independence News Service)

Hankow, June 21.—Cholera epidemic is now in strong evidence among the population within and without the city of Wuchang. British Trade With Russia

THE past few months have seen a complete change in the relations between Russia and the outside world. There has been a steady increase in the degree of intimacy to which Russia has been admitted by other nations. Soviet Delegations attended the International Conference on the Russian Famine which met in Geneva in August last under the auspices of the International Red Cross. Soviet representatives were recently invited to attend the International Health Conference in London, and the Soviet Government was officially represented at the League of Nations Conference on Epidemics which has been sitting at Warsaw.

The Genoa Conference, however, was the first occasion on which delegates from Moscow were invited to a discussion of general European problems. At the Brussels Financial Conference in September, 1920, Russia was not invited to attend, and would probably have refused to do so if invited. The attendance of the Russian Delegation at the Genoa Conference went a long way towards saving that Conference from complete failure, and the part played by the Russian Delegation, and the full recognition of the importance of Russia in European affairs, has led to the calling of the Conference at The Hague, where the main topic under discussion will be the state of Russia and measures for its amelioration.

This change in the relations between Russia and the outside world has been largely influenced by the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement signed in London on March 16, 1921. Under that Agreement each party undertook to refrain from hostile action against the other, and from conducting official propaganda against each other's interests. The blockade was removed, and provision was made, by the appointment of official agents in each country, for the resumption of trade relations. The question of debts incurred by the former Russian Government and claims for compensation for acts done by the Soviet Government were left to be regulated in the general Treaty of Peace referred to in the preamble of the Agreement. The signing of the Trade Agreement was subsequently construed by the British Courts as involving the de facto recognition of the Soviet Government. At the time of signature the British Government gave an assurance to the Allies that, on the question of the recognition of debts, the claims of other countries would not be prejudiced in any negotiations that might take place in London.

The Trade Agreement has now been in force for a little over a year. The total exports from the United Kingdom to Russia during 1921 amounted to £5,320,703, compared with £27,694,000 in 1913. According to recently published figures the total purchases made by the Russian Co-operative Society, Limited, up to Decemebr, 1921, amount to £6,477,918. The chief items purchased were as follows:

Russian purchases in the United Kingdom, 1920-21

Textiles and clothing	£2,294,758
Agricultural machines	493,754
Machinery and parts..	237,012
Steel ropes	89,396
Binder twine	94,622
Seed	374,746
Foodstuffs	2,338,277
Drugs and chemicals.	333,445
Coal	390,201

The total sales of Russian produce in the United Kingdom in 1921 amounted in value to £1,601,116. They started at £260 for January, and reached a maximum of £[illegible]6,737 in November. Another table from the same source gives the value of the individual items sold:—

Analysis of sales of Russian produce, 1921.

Bristles	£4,187
Caviare	5,783
Copper	26,300
Flax, hemp and tow	202,035
Furs	14,401
Hides	1,994
Lycopodium	3,615
Manganese	8,550
Oil	408,757
Pitch	27,392
Potash	6,031
Sunflower oilcake	8,120
Timber	846,722
Tobacco	16,486
Tar	16,217

The above figures show that the sales of Russian produce have been less than one-third of Russian purchases, the remaining two-thirds having been paid for principally in gold. The most important articles sold have been timber, oil, and flax. The quantities of timber from Archangel and Petrograd have had a substantial effect on the timber market. On the whole, the volume of trade, though it has not come up to the expectations of some enthusiasts, has been larger than most people anticipated when the Trade Agreement was signed.

An important factor on the encouragement of Anglo-Russian trade has been the personality of Mr. Krassin, the head of the Russian Trade Delegation in London. Mr. Krassin is not a professional diplomat or politician, but a business man who believes in efficiency, large-scale organisation and strong government, and he has created a favorable impression on the British industrialists and bankers with whom he has come in contact. His realistic outlook has undoubtedly done much to improve the relations of Soviet Russia not only with Britain but with the French commercial world, as distinct from the French political world. In this respect Mr. Krassin is a true representative of the present Russian Government, which is above all a practical government. We have only to examine the facts and circumstances under which Japan at last has decided to evacuate Siberia in order to understand this.

French Future Lies In Aviation, Belief

Use Of Commercial Planes For Battle Purposes Disputed By Experts

Paris, May 1.—At the time that the French government has finally recognised the services of Clement Ader, the "father of aviation," now eighty-one years old, the public is beginning to take a great interest in the rapidly developing commercial flying and to wonder if those aeroplanes can be used in time of war for military purposes. While many noted men claim that the government should devote its interest to the creation of civil planes which could be converted to war uses, other authorities insist that the two types of machines are essentially different and cannot serve purposes other than for which they were built.

Ader, who was the first person to use the term "avion," which means aeroplane in French, and its derivative "aviation," has spent the last thirty of his eight-one years in seclusion. After his first attempts, when he proved the possibility of flying, the French government dropped him. A little later other inventors carried on his work and gained laurels which should have been his. He retreated, broken hearted, to the country. His friends tried to make the government offer him some recognition for his remarkable services, but no one would listen to them. It was only after three and a half years of war that his great work was realised and appreciated, and the government gave him the large cross of the Legion of Honor.

From his earliest days Ader devoted himself to the study of flight. He had all kinds of kites as a boy, and was absorbed in the flight of birds and insects. During the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 he perfected a series of observation kites capable of holding a man high in the air to watch the enemy.

He has always been a successful inventor. In his earlier days he generalised Alexander Graham Bell's telephone and established the first system and exchange in France at Pau, near the Pyrenees. This brought him both wealth and the distinction of the Legion of Honor.

Clement Ader made his first flight on October 9, 1890, at the Chateau d'Armanvilliers, but flew only fifty yards. The next year he flew one hundred yards and the Minister of War, then De Freycinet, became interested in aeroplanes. Under the War Department's directions work was carried on until 1897, when on October 14 of that year a trial flight of two hundred and fifty yards was planned. Ader offered to be the pilot, although he was fifty-six years old, and flew more than the required distance. A high wind was blowing, which turned his plane off the course and wrecked it, but the Military Commission was satisfied. A little later De Freycinet went out of office; new, skeptical men filled the War Office; all credits for flying experiments were canceled.

Ader agrees with Mr. Painleve and many eminent Frenchmen that the future of France depends a great deal on aviation both for her safety and success. Paul Painleve, the well known scientist, Deputy and former Premier of France, said recently:

"Aviation is the only thing that can offer our people, who are exposed to constant aggressions, the safety necessary to fulfill their earnest desire to live in peace and progress toward a realisation of their genius."

M. Painleve contends that the French government is not in a position to indulge in the expense of building up and maintaining the large air force that would be necessary for France's supremacy in this field, and which she must have for her security. Therefore he believes that the only solution is in developing commercial aviation.

"It is essential," he continued, "to determine immediately the military uses to which civil aeroplanes can be put. It is therefore an urgent and permanent duty of the state to encourage constructors, and to induce them to develop commercial planes that can be easily adapted to military purposes.

"With these planes in mind, one of the first things to do will be to establish a large aviators' training school which will develop a large reserve of pilots. Then the factories should be organised so that they can transform a civil plane into a fighting machine in a short time, and at the same time be in a position to turn out quantities of airplanes in series the moment war is declared.

"The future wars will depend on the manufacturers. As every soldier has a mobilisation pamphlet with instructions what to do when his class is called, so every manufacturer should be under orders, and every one of them start making war material of a prespecified type from the moment of a general mobilisation. This is especially necessary in the field of aviation, where numbers of airplanes will be needed whose motors are good for only twenty-five to fifty hours of service."

Lieutenant Colonel Rousset agrees completely that France's only salvation lies in developing aviation to a high degree. He was greatly impressed by essays, made under General Mitchell's orders, of bombing battleships and submarines. When he saw that a 200-pound bomb was sufficient to sink the former German submarine U-117, and that the General promised even four-and-a-half-ton bombs that, exploding on reaching the water near a vessel, would be enough to sink a large battleship, he said:

"America has given us a most precious bit of advice. Let us keep it in mind, and enter resolutely on the road it indicates, which I call the fortification of the air. Old-fashioned walls are no longer a guaranty, nor even perhaps large armies. Only clouds of airplanes can give us an efficient protection. Large aerial fleets are the best assurance we can possibly have against aggressions which we, unfortunately, must look forward to."

There are, however, numerous experts in France who declare that it would be impossible to employ commercial airplanes for fighting purposes. During a long debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the budget Laurent Eynac, the Under-Secretary for Aviation, demanded that sufficient funds be appropriated for military planes because the civil aircraft are totally unsuited for war. Lieutenant Colonel Reboul, the well-known flyer, supported this view, saying:

"Let commercial aviation keep to its own role and develop as far as it can, but do not count on it for the air battles that will doubtless open the great wars of the future."

France, however, hopes to lead the world in commercial aviation and is planning continually the development of that branch of flying. A great progress has been made during the last three years, as the following figures indicate:

Year	Trips	Passengers
1919	988	588
1920	2,386	1,721

How Biggest Diamond Was Polished

The wonderful skill and ingenhity of the diamond workers, which involves the utmost delicacy of workmanship, has never better been illustrated than in the polishing of the biggest of all diamonds—the famous Cullinan, presented to the late King Edward VII. by the owners of the Kimberley mines in South Africa.

It was necessary to cleave the stone in three pieces so as to remove the two very bad flaws. This cleaving was accomplished first by making an incision in the stone with a diamond cutting saw at the point where it was to be cleaven and following the grain (all diamonds have a grain) to a depth of one-half to three-quarters of an inch.

Before this cleaving operation was undertaken crystal models were made and cleaved to learn, as far as could be known, just what would happen when the same process was applied to the real stone.

When the incision had been made the cleaver inserted into the slit a specially constructed knife blade made of the finest steel and then with a thick steel rod struck it a hard blow and cut the stone in twain exactly at the point where it was proposed it should be cut. It was an exceedingly well executed piece of work.

The cleaving of a diamond is not always accomplished along the line it is intended, and it not infrequently happens that in cleaving a stone it flies into a great number of pieces.

The Cullinan stone having been successfully split the next and final operation was the polishing, the most difficult and nicest part of the diamond cutting. This huge gem was polished on a disk made of cast iron and steel, revolving at the rate of twenty-four hundred revolutions a minute. The diamond was pressed down on this disk, which was liberally supplied with a mixture of diamond dust and oil, by weights of from fifteen to twenty-five pounds, and the disk was constantly turned from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. every day for eleven months before the polishing was completed.

The Cullinan is many times larger than the Excelsior, the next largest diamond in the world. The Cullinan in the rough weighed 3,027 carats. The part of the stone on the mill, when finished, weighed between 500 and 600 carats. The actual commercial value of the stone is about $2,500,000, but its unique character makes it practically priceless.

When the Cullinan was found it was a problem of the diamond company to decide what to do with it. Its mere size, over one and a half pounds, made it unmarketable and unsaleable, and to cut it up into small pieces would destroy not only its intrinsic value but its sentimental value. The diamond therefore remained in the vaults of the company for nearly three years, when it was decided to present it to the King of Great Britain on the anniversary of his sixty-sixth birthday.

In the rough the stone was valued at about $1,000,000, and about this price was actually paid, namely $400,000 and $600,000, representing 60 percent of the interest the Government of the Transvaal had therein on account of the fact that the Government was entitled to this percentage of the output of all diamond mines of South Africa.

Stinnes And Ebert See New Labor Era

Wilhelmshaven, Germany, May 20 (Associated Press).—Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial and shipping magnate, was host today at a remarkable "get together" luncheon here, which followed the launching of his new cargo steamer, the Carl Legien, in the presence of President Ebert, parliamentary officials and industrial leaders from all parts of Germany.

Presiding at the large luncheon table, around which shipyard workers and representatives of big business sat side by side, Herr Stinnes explained the motive that led him to name his new vessel in honor of the late head of the German Federation of Trades Unions, and why he felt that the presence of the President of the German Republic was eminently befitting the occasion, which he hoped would be received as an indication of his sincerity in endeavoring to achieve a closer working communion between employer and employe.

The presidential party arrived from Berlin early this morning, briefly inspected the harbor and proceeded to the shipyard, where the Carl Legien was ready for launching. The command for release was given by the foreman of the shipyard as Herr Stinnes's daughter, Fraulein Hurles, broke the bottle against the vessel's side.

Herr Stinnes then stepped forward and delivered an address in which he welcomed this handsome testimonial to Legien and referred to his eminence as a labor leader during the thirty years he had devoted to coordinating the labor movement in Germany.

President Ebert also spoke briefly, saying the altered political situation and the present economic conditions of the Fatherland had been recognised by the Republican constitution which, he declared, provided a basis for closer communion between employers and workers.

Speaking at the luncheon, Stinnes referred to Legien's services in connection with the demobilisation of the army when the Government was suddenly confronted with the task of diverting the flooding tide of homeward-bound soldiers into old and new pursuits.

"Herr Legien," said the speaker, "realised the gravity of the situation and the complexities of the problem. He suggested that Dr. Rathenau and I go with him to the civil and military authorities to offer his services in connection with the task of demobilising the army. It is not too much to declare that his farsightedness, his skill and the patriotic manner in which he placed his copious experience as labor leader at the Government's disposal saved the Fatherland from dire peril during the days following the revolution."

At the luncheon one worker and one employer sat alternately around the luncheon board.

President Ebert later visited the cruiser Braunschweig, which is anchored in the harbor, accompanied by Minister of Defense Gessler, Premier Braun of Prussia and other political leaders.

-:- Silk -:-

SEASON 1921-1922

In their yearly review on the silk market of May 31, Messrs. William Little and Company write as follows:

Statistics.—The total export of all descriptions of silk from this port has been piculs 66,188 against 58,777 piculs for 1920-21 and 91,527 piculs for 1919-20.

The total shipments from the Far East have been 402,561 bales against 254,444 bales for previous season.

White Silk (exclusive of Steam Filature). The total export has been 7,830 piculs against 10,286 piculs and 19,441 piculs for two previous seasons.

Shipments for America are 4,105 piculs including 411 yellow against 5,316 piculs last season.

Resume.—The white silk crop was very short this season and the small supply available for export was aggravated by a very heavy native demand. Steam Filatures were likewise below normal. The shortage here and in Japan, in fact world wide, proved fortunate as it assisted Japan towards the liquidation of the large holdings held by the Syndicate which have been hanging over the consuming markets for long.

The Shanghai International Testing House opened business this year and will prove very useful for those Exports who wish to avail themselves of tests that are made or to check their own findings. It should likewise tend to the gradual improvement of China Silks which is one of their principle objects and thus act as a corollary to the good work of the International Committee for the improvement of Sericulture. This Committee in spite of severe handicap through lack of adequate funds, distributes seeds free from disease, establishes stations and carries on propaganda work among the Farmers in the endeavor to gradually eliminate the appalling waste from diseased worms, by educating the natives and thus ensuring an increasing crop, which is for the benefit of all interested in the Silk Trade.

Filatures and Common New Style.—We take these together as Common New Style is gradually replacing Kung Kee Mars 1 and Pegasus will in future be reeled as New Style. Due to the heavy Native demand and crop shortage there has been little of these sorts available for export. In June, price for Kung Kee Mars 1 was Tls. 800. Common New Style Tls. 810. Best Filatures Tls. 850. By July, prices had advanced Tls. 100. During August to early October rates ruled: Tls. 910, Tls. 945, Tls. 980, for Kung Kee Mars. Common New Style and Best Filatures respectively. By then it was evident that the shortage would be more severe than was anticipated. In spite of the very restricted demand prices rose to Tls. 1,100 for Kung Kee Mars and Tls. 1,125 for Common New Style. Best grade Filatures being missing. By end of January these sorts were practically exhausted. In February and March a few lots of Common New Style sold at the unprecedented figure of Tls. 1,175. New Season silk began to be contracted in May at Tls. 850, Tls. 970 and Tls. 980, for Kug Kee Mars 1. Common New Style and Best grades but declined to Tls. 875, Tls. 885 and Tls. 945, a drop of Tls. 300 in two months from top rates. A reaction took place towards the close of the month Common New Style Tls. 910. Best Tls. 970 and with country market against dealers a stiff advance is being asked.

New Style.—Some interest was shown in May for America M H Y Blue Dragon and Feima Ex 1 2 coming at Tls. 845 av. Tls. next transactions did not occur till July, and August at Tls. 970-1000 av and Tls. 1,050 av, currently reported as Bear covering. In October some purchases were effected at last rates. During November-December quite a good business was done which cleared supplies for the season. M H 1 selling at Tls. 1,050 to Tls. 1,220 av. Medium grades Tls. 1,010 av to Tls. 1,160 av for Black Lion 1 and 2 sorts. New Season transactions opened in early May on basis of Tls. 1,055 for M H Y and declined Tls. 15. Medium grades as Gold Stork 1 and 2 selling at Tls. 960 av to Tls. 980 av closing with Silk men asking for a considerable advance.

Steam Filatures.—It was generally considered that in view of the short crop only some 20,000 bales would be available for the current season including the carry over from last. Actually 24,021 bales were shipped and the strong demand and advance in December doubtless accounted for the excess. In early June a fair business was done chiefly in Medium grades for America, demand broaden with a good business at advancing rates and some 6,000 bales had by then been contracted for at an advance of some Tls. 70. Prices being forced up above parity of other sorts the market ruled quiet till August when Lyons showed some interest, in spite of exchange having advanced against buyers. During September-October in spite of the big advance in exchange which put Chinas out of court, Filatures in view of the shortage, maintained rates for some time but gradually reduced prices in face of tight money and anxiety to encourage demand again to meet current expenses, reduced rates to opening prices. This encouraged business and big settlements were effected for America and Lyons at advancing rates. Prices quickly recovered the decline and came at Tls. 1250 for Best at Tls. 1120 medium, assisted by the rapid advance in Japans. With supplies now restricted some Filatures were forced to close through lack of cocoons and delivery generally was required into February. Prices by December stood at Tls. 1420 for Best, Tls. 1300 Medium. The decline in exchange in January encouraged further operation and prices were forced up to Tls. 1500 and 1410 for Best and Medium when supplies were practically cleared. The slump in Japans depressed rate and with further decline in exchange a few transactions took place best grades declining to Tls. 1300.

Wild Silk.—Shipments are 13,744 bales including 3,376 bales Local Ports and Japan against 9,730 bales previous season.

Tussah Filatures, 8 Cocoons.—A small business was done in June at Tls. 505 av for Best grades advancing to Tls. 540 av in view of limited supplies, with Tls. 570 av in July. The market ruled quiet till September when new season silk opened at Tls. 530 av quickly advancing Tls. 30. Higher prices were demanded in view of small crop and renewed business took place in October at Tls. 600 av. A steady business took place in November-December prices gradually rising to Tls. 780 av when advancing Tls. 30. Higher prices were contracted for, the bulk of the high costing Silk being taken for Japan. In January a few lots came at Tls. 805-40 av since when prices quietly sagged away to Tls. 655 av in April recovering to Tls. 740 av with very little silk available.

Yellow Steam Filatures.—Shipments are 7,214 bales against 1967. Increase primarily due to these sorts being taken as substitutes for Cantons.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guaranteed genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., DuBois, N. Y.

"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Plan to Save Systematically

THE EXPERIENCE of a hundred generations proves that every individual must observe three conditions in order to become financially independent as a result of his own efforts.

FIRST. One must save a part of One's earnings regularly and methodically.

SECOND. These savings must be invested in a safe plan.

THIRD. Big possibilities must be demanded—for this will perhaps soon amount to 1 to 160 times more than the money saved.

NOTICE

The presence in the French Concession of wandering dogs constitutes, at this time of the year, a particularly grave danger. Many cases of hydrophobia have been notified.

In these circumstances special intructions have been given to the Police to organize, as from today, battues in which all ownerless dogs found in the streets of the Concession will be, if it is possible, taken and put in pound, or, if not, killed on the spot.

Residents in the French Concession, who will certainly appreciate the imperative necessity of this measure, are asked to take care that their dogs are not allowed out without muzzles.

They will also render a great service to the community if they will notify the Police or Sanitary Department of all cases of the death of suspected dogs occuring at their houses or in the neighbourhood.

Consul General de France.

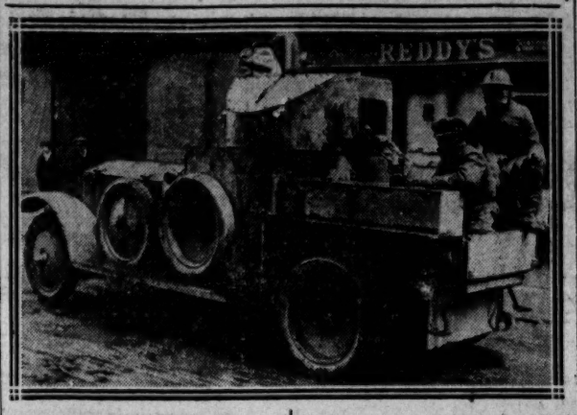
Armored Cars Quell Irish Rioting



SOLDIERS of the Irish Free State Government, with the aid of armored cars, have been called upon to quell continued riots of the "country of turmoil." Recent dispatches indicate that many Irish Republican Army officers are deserting the forces of Eamonn de Valera and urging unification under the treaty which established the Irish Free State, with Arthur Griffiths and Michael Collins as leaders.

Judgments Interest Shipping Companies

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 24.—Marine underwriters are very interested in two shipping judgments of the King's Bench in cases of two Greek steamers which were scuttled. Under these judgments it was decided that the fraudulent owner had no claim because an ordinary Lloyd's policy did not cover the risk of scuttling, yet, if the ship were mortgaged, the innocent mortgagees could recover from the underwriters.

In another case the Judge dismissed a claim of ship owners for the insurance on part of their cargo. It appeared that during a voyage from New York the captain saw smoke issuing from the hold and turned on high-pressure steam. The Judge held that the underwriters had insured against fire but not against an error of judgment of the captain.

MISSION HEAD IMPERILED BY HONAN BANDITS

Hundred Chinese Christians Held For Ransom

(China Press Correspondence)

Kaifeng, June 22.—Father Cattaneo, in charge of the Catholic mission at Luyi, narrowly escaped death several times, and almost one hundred Chinese Christians, men, women and children, were abducted and are now being held for ransom as a result of the latest bandit uprising which has held Honan in a reign of terror ever since the overthrow of Chao Ti, who started the revolt when the false news of Wu Pei-fu's assassination was received.

Luyi is on the eastern border of Honan, near the Anhwei line, between Pochow and Chenchowfu, while the previously reported burning of a foreign mission, the Norwegian, occurred at Lushan, in the west-central part of the province.

At the same time news was received of a twelve hour battle that raged between the bandits and troops of General Feng, the Christian General, but the outcome is not known.

At three o'clock on Saturday morning the brigands found little difficulty in entering the poorly guarded city, and while the population still slept began firing in all directions to frighten the inhabitants. After several volleys had been fired the 3,000 bandits, said to be ex-soldiers under Governor Chao Ti, began a wild orgy of plunder and pillage.

Each of the bandits was armed with a rifle, two revolvers and a large, sharp knife, which they brandished as they ran from house to house, yelling and shooting. Father Cattaneo was in the home of a Chinese Christian at the time.

The brigands, shortly after entering the town, learned that there was a foreigner in the city and immediately sent a detachment to the house and compelled him, at the point of a bayonet to give up his two mules and a horse, and what little money he had on his person.

The bandits left and informed others of the priest's presence. From 3 o'clock that morning until after daylight six different groups came to the house and threatened Father Cattaneo, demanding more money with guns against his breast.

Finally Father Cattaneo took shelter above the ceiling and remained there for 8 hours until discovered although the robbers made ten other visits to the house searching for him and at one time were within a foot of his hiding place. Several times he heard them conversing among themselves and promising to kill him when he was found. Famished and exhausted the priest was finally rescued after the bandits had left the city.

The bandits marched out of the city in orderly fashion. About 8 o'clock on Saturday afternoon a bugle sounded and they all gathered in the center of the city heavily loaded with loot, and then marched into the country.

More than 80 persons, men, women and children, were forced to march away with them as hostages and are still held for ransom. They took with them practically everything of value in the city that they could lay their hands on.

It is said they intended setting fire to the city when they left, but were in a hurry because of a rumor that General Feng was marching against them and left before committing this further act of vandalism.
